

The 8th Exhibition of ITbM Gallery

May 7th-17th, 2019

Weekday 9:30-19:30

Venue: Entrance Hall, 1F, ITbM, Nagoya University
Entry Fee: FREE

Daniela Palandre

Flora & Fauna
in New Zealand

Live-painting

Tuesday 10:00-12:00

Thursday 16:00-18:00

Concept:

The human hand is unique: it can create and destroy, it can be soft and gentle or cruel and violent.

The human hand produced the most beautiful artwork on earth, but hands also fought the cruelest wars in history. We should all be aware of our actions and should respect the life on earth.

In my paintings, which were shot in New Zealand, I want to show the beauty of the nature and the living creatures on this planet.

Bio:

My art name is La Mano which means « the hand » in Spanish and Italian.

I always liked to paint. I started face-painting in France 10 years ago. I painted at school festivals and charity events. When I came to Japan 3 years ago I started hand-painting. In Japan space is limited and my hand is a very small canvas and is always available.

